

Data Scientist - Web Engineer/Web Developer

🌐 Employees can work remotely

Full-time

Company Description

Leading web consulting, design and development firm based in the historic Loop area of St. Louis is seeking a senior data scientist and web developer with passion and experience designing and developing new web apps to join our growing team.

We offer a flexible, creative work from anywhere culture empowering our team to learn daily, have fun and deliver excellence for our clients. We are looking for seasoned developers who want to learn on a daily basis, take pride in developing highly usable, intuitive web applications and hope to change the world via technology.

We hire people based upon the H's:

- Happy - a zest for life and desire to delight our clients
- Humble - no egos allowed. ever.
- Hungry - will want to change the world
- Honest - always do what you say you're gonna do

NON-Smokers only, please.

No recruiters or offshore firms.

Job Description

Must have:

- Strategic thinkers and problem solvers
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills
- Strong self management
- Enjoy a highly collaborative work environment
- Desire and ability to learn on a daily basis
- Firm understanding of object-oriented programming
- Believes this is a craft, not just a job
- Node.js, advanced Javascript, react.js, full stack if possible
- PHP (Zend, Symfony) or other MVC framework
- Experience with web CMS such as WordPress, DNN, Magento, etc.
- LESS, SASS, etc.
- Git, SVN or other version control system
- HTML5, JavaScript, CSS, JSON experience
- Experience with continuous integration
- Bachelor's degree required, Master's preferred

Qualifications

Nice to have:

- Familiar with agile/iterative software development
- Ability to write unit tests
- Experience with continuous integration
- Cloud infrastructure experience
- Will have live URLs of your work to reference
- Must be able to collaborate effectively
- Must be a proactive communicator
- Must be able to get to extreme detail
- Likely an excellent writer

Additional Information

Must have a passion for all things web, learning every day and working with the most creative, awesome team in St. Louis.

Will probably love going to shows at Delmar Hall, Red Bull or American Honey.

Offshore firms and recruiters PLEASE DO NOT RESPOND.

Job Location

Cookies Settings

Posted by

Ed Morrissey